

PRETTY IN PINK- GIRLS DRESS IN A CUTE STRIPE BROCADE

Posted on August 16, 2016 by Shavonne Cruz

This dress was inspired by the many dresses I wore when I was my daughter's age. Spaghetti straps and smocking, remember? I loved those dresses! This dress has that same silhouette, so the pattern was pretty simple to create.

It can be challenging to find special occasion dresses in the summer, so I chose this beautiful lightweight pink striped brocade from Mood Designer Fabrics.

Brocades are embossed with metallic threads giving the fabric just the right amount of shimmer.

I hand stitched a few gemstones and gold beading to the front for a special touch. Matching buttons and bow at back finishes the look perfectly!

Hope you are inspired to try a brocade for your next girls dress project.

Happy sewing! Enjoy.
